1 Attack Narrative

1.1 Address

To find the address of the house, I used reverse image search to see if I could find the original source. Using reverse image search I was able to see that this was an event at 1072 80th St 1st. Floor, Brooklyn, NY 11228.

1.2 Neighborhood

Once I was able to find the event, I looked up where the event is held and also confirmed that there was a park nearby with the name. The name of the neighborhood is Dyker Heights in Brooklyn New York.

1.3 Date and Time

The tool exiftool was used to see the time the picture was taken. The tool revealed that the picture was taken 2021:12:27 18:12:34 or December 27th, 2021 at 6:12 PM.

1.4 Event Name

The name of the event was also revealed during the reverse image search. The event is called Dyker Heights Christmas Lights Tour and is organized by several residents of the neighborhood every year near Christmas time.

1.5 Organizer

Googling the event revealed that the original organizer of the event was Lucy Spata and she started this tradition back in the 1980s. She herself carried this tradition on that her mother had started long before.
